Mawuli are you sure you understand your name ? Do you want to tell me the name Mawuli was used after the white man brought us his bible and God ? Look we have our own God already and until we go to take it , we will live in poverty forever. She is an anlo woman and she won't shy away and let some crooked prophet toy with the life of his son . Masa she when waited too long . What is wrong with going to take what Belong to you ? Anlo koo tsio ko!!!

If you fight with a pig you will both get dirty but the pig would enjoy it while you get upset. Mum you dont have to go the gutters with the doomsayers. You dont need to expose your son. Just go to the village quietly and do what you want to do. It will be a great service to mother Ghana.

What I believe is when there is a prophecy that favours you or not go on your knees to pray to God. Hezekiah in the bible when the Prophets told him he will die, he faced the wall and prayed to God and He added another 15 years to his age. Do more talk less. God is so merciful. He is not happy when a sinner die in his sins.

Re: Start using your common sense

I am afraid the common sense you have in mind is completely lacking in Ghana presently. It is clear the woman is a believer in the supernatural and, for such people, it is their line of default to explain and solve problems. Revealing her Anlo origin (surprise! surprise! to many of us) and calling on the God of Israel (actually a Midianite deity of the wife of Moses he imposed upon the Jews after they left Egypt) is to emphasise her potent spirituality. As some of you are surely aware, there are some people who are claiming Ewes were among the original Jews! Humbug to me but it appears some really believe that. Of course, I know why and how those stories of some Africans being Jews originated, as modern researches had overturned the Talmudic interpretation of the Torah making black people descendants of Ham and those pre-C19th and early C20th wrong notions created by uninformed white explorers who were not qualified scholars in the fields they were pronouncing on. Anyway, as a pioneer in exposing and opposing these religious charlatans, the biblical myths, etc., I am glad a lot more people are now waking up to the reality. We're still far from the scientific and legal-rational common senses though. Not even 90% of so-called educated Ghanaians really understood them yet! Andy-K

Anlo woman indeed your actions has boasted the confidence of your stupid and wayward son to continue in his destructive. Indeed if shatter wale's life will negatively affect ghana youth like ebony's then its not prudent he lives.

Ghana-Africa full of hatred Shatta Wale is a musician, making music you have to talk about all things happening-free of speeches but there are idiots who curse musicians maybe is due to jealousy and lack of knowledge Ghana is lacking. Shatta Wale will do well in Britain We can't all go to church on Sundays some Pastors think just presenting yourself in churches on Sundays is a good thing meanwhile your mind is corrupt with kalabule. Once you bring the stolen money to the church they give you a high table and chair to sit on-corrupt Pastors how dare you tell people when they will die idiots.

Hmmm

These lying prophets are gradually messing up the minds of shatta wale and his family. It's a huge psychological burden these prophets have laid on this guy. I were shatta wale I would also prophesy their death by mentioning their names and see how the public would deal with it. All these fuulish prophecies gained currency when owusu bempah seemed to get the prophecy about nana addo becoming a president correct. But every Ghanaian new NDC would lose. He only studied the situation on the ground to give a prophecy and today we are having all these unknown prophets also prophesying garbage.
